Tea

English Breakfast

A dark tea with a robust full-bodied flavor, ideally mixed with milk producing a beverage with a comforting sweet smell

Earl Grey

A tea with a light and refreshing taste, flavored with bergamot oil and named after Charles Grey, the second Earl in his line (early 19th Century)

Darjeeling

The “Champagne of all teas”, a light brown color with a round full taste, excellent for consumption all day

Ceylon

A classic black tea from Sri Lanka that produces a beverage with a good cup strength and color

Tie Guan Yin

The “Iron Goddess of Mercifulness” tea - a semi fermented tea from the Oolong family with a very full roasted flavor, strong-baked aroma and a golden color

Jasmine

A traditional Chinese tea that can accompany any savory oriental meal, Jasmine flowers are added to the tea in the evening when the buds are about to release their fragrance

Japanese Green

A natural antioxidant, this highly popular tea produces a refreshing and light beverage

Chamomile

Not to be missed before retiring to sleep, Chamomile is well known from antiquity for its calming and antiseptic properties

Peppermint

A uniquely fragrant tea that helps digestion and can keep you naturally alert (caffeine-free)

Teh Tarik

Black tea with evaporated cream and sugar
